Utopia Training have developed an effective induction programme that is fully aligned to the 15 standards of the care certificate. The induction programme is run over three days and gives each new care worker the knowledge and skills to be able to put back into the work place when they start their new career in social care.

The course can be run over 3 days in one week or spread out over 3 months depending on the requirements of your business.

£210.00
Per Person

What is the care certificate? The care certificate is a set of standards that social care and health workers adhere to in their daily working life. The care certificate is now the new minimum standards that should be covered as part of induction training of new workers.

The care certificate was developed jointly by skills for care, health education England and skills for health. It:

- Applies across social care and health
- Links to National occupational standards and units in qualification
- Covers what is needed to be caring – giving workers a good basis from which they can develop their knowledge and skills

The care certificate is the start of the career journey and is only one element of the training and education that will make new health and social care workers ready to practice within their specific sector. Although the care certificate is designed for new staff, it also offers opportunities for existing staff to refresh or improve their knowledge and understanding within their role and responsibilities.
